"Find a beautiful piece of art. If you fall in love with Van Gogh or Matisse or John Oliver Killens, or if you fall in love with the music of Coltrane, the music of Aretha Franklin, or the music of Chopin —find some beautiful art and admire it, and realize that that was created by human beings just like you, no more human, no less."

Plant a few trees, and you usher in an ecosystem. Build nature a house, and she makes it her home.

The Prince Couldn't Cook A Buzzard

About the time Florida became a state, folks around Tallahassee were delighted to have royalty in their midst. Prince Charles Louis Achille Napoleon Murat and his beautiful wife Catherine lived here.

Although the prince became a successful planter, postmaster and county judge, tales still abound about some of the goofy things he did. One of the goofiest was his attempt to find a way to make turkey buzzards (he called them turkey buzzards) taste good.

The prince made a hobby of making meals out of local wildlife and whatnot. He cooked toadstools and rattlesnakes, and he was particularly proud of his baked owl with head on and his cow's ear stew. No matter how hard he tried, though, the crown prince of Naples just never could whip up a decent dish of turkey buzzard.
